History of Caduceus

AESCULAPIUS, Son of Apollo, God of Healing.

Apollo was the most versatile of the Olympic gods, being the god of prophecy with his oracle at Delphi. It was to this oracle that people turned in sickness. Thus he is represented as the father of Aesculapius, God of Healing. When Coronis was with child by Apollo she became enamored with Ischys, an Arcadian, and Apollo was informed of this by a raven. Apollo became enraged, killed Coronis and Ischys, and when the body was to be burned, Hermes saved the child from the flames, carried the boy to Chieron, who instructed the boy in the arts of healing and hunting.

After Aesculapius had grown up, the report spread to all countries that he not only cured all sick but called the dead to life again. According to tradition he was shut up in the house of Glaucus whom he was to cure. While he was standing in thought, a serpent came and twined itself about his staff. He killed the serpent. Another serpent then came, carrying in its mouth an herb with which it recalled to life the one that had been killed, and Aesculapius henceforth made use of the same herb, with the same effect on man. The serpent has since been the perpetual symbol of Aesculapius.

The descendants of Aesculapius are spoken of as Aesclepiadae, to whom he transmitted his medical knowledge, whose principal seats were the islands of Cos and Cuidus. The latter place became famous as the birthplace and subsequent seat of Hippocrates, father of medicine. The knowledge was regarded as a sacred secret, and was transmitted from father to son only. We still possess the oath that every one was obliged to take when he was put in possession of the medical secrets, that of Hippocrates.

By Jack Elmore, Junior Class Editor

ANCIENT PHYSICIAN

Aesculapius with Caduceus

This photograph is of a statue of Aesculapius with his staff on which the healing serpent has entwined. This staff with twining serpent as described in ancient mythology, has become emblematic of the healing art of the medical profession and is represented in the modern symbol — the caduceus. The modern Caduceus is generally depicted as a winged staff with twin serpents symmetrically entwined. The statue pictured above may be seen in the Library of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine.

We Are Grateful To

CHARLES ROBERT TURNER
Associate Editor

Mr. CHARLES ROBERT TURNER for taking the informal snapshots used in this yearbook.

Mr. GREER H. LILE and MISS MARY JO McKNIGHT of the Dept. of Medical Illustration for their excellent work in finishing the informal pictures used in this annual.

Mr. and Mrs. BUDDY SHRADER and Staff of SHRADER'S STUDIO for their cooperation and assistance in getting together photographic copy for the yearbook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. LEONARD MIZELL and PEERLESS ENGRAVING CO. for their efforts to get the photo-engravings out in record time.

Mr. LARRY OBSITNIK of the ARKANSAS GAZETTE for making our dedication portrait.

Mr. WILLIAM T. STOVER for his special aid and encouragement to our enterprise.

DR. A. W. McCULLOUGH and DR. OWEN BEARD for advice and encouragement.

MANY MEDICAL STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF MEMBERS, and NURSES of the University Hospital and School of Medicine for their cooperation and assistance.

DEDICATION

*To love one maiden only, cleave to her,
And worship her by years of noble deeds,
Until they won her; for indeed I know
Of no other subtle master under heaven
Than is the maiden passion for a maid,
Not only to keep down the base in man,
But teach high thought, and amiable words,
And courtliness, and the desire of fame,
And love of truth, and all that makes a man*

BECAUSE

You have attained the apex of your numerical strength in the entire history of the University of Arkansas, School of Medicine — —

You have projected yourselves into a greater and more efficient scope of activities than ever before — —

You have loyally supported the American Medical Association in its defense against the menace of Socialized Medicine and the Tax Payers' Protective League in its fight to maintain the American way of life — —

You have rallied so promptly and effectively to assist one of our number who was struck by a personal disaster — —

You are largely Veterans' wives who have bravely faced alone the uncertainties of the recent War period — —

You, the wives of more than one-half the entire Student Body of the School of Medicine, have endured with us the stresses and privations of our period of basic medical education — —

BECAUSE of these things and many others, we affectionately DEDICATE this book to — —

"Do you know anybody in Prescott?"

"Boy, if I ever get through with all this—."

"Nearly broke my hand."

"Let's see what the resident said."

"Hm-m-m, gurgling or sonorous?"

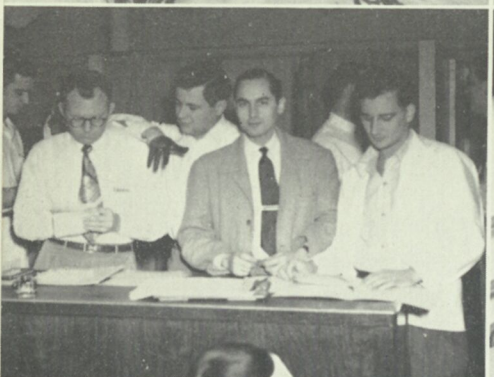

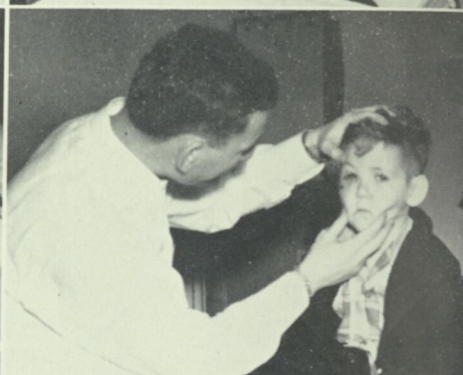

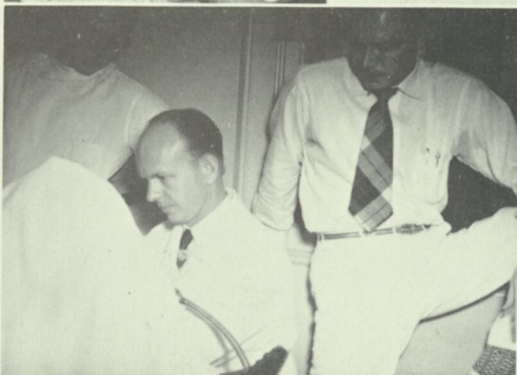

"That guy gagged me!"

Shermer gets target practice.

"Well, not exactly."

What could be funny about this?

Testing — one, two, three.

Left to Right and Top to Bottom:

"The yanks are coming!"
 "I'll buy that, but it's not easy."
 "Which end is up?"
 "More instruments, please."
 "Lum-de-da-de - dee."
 "How does the other guy look?"

"Get that dirty glove off my shoulder!"
 "Duh, what's that for, Doctor?"
 Betty fights back.
 "How zit feel to you, Chief?"

Left to Right and Top to Bottom:

Unilateral oophorectomy.
This is delicate business.
"Now let me tell you!"
One syringe, one needle.
Why not dry-lab, Neil?
"What does this baby eat?"

Good crop of these every year.
"Don't breathe or move."
4 x 4 times 10,000.
Mrs. Eagle — her immaculate suit.
"This ain't the way my case is."
"Who'll I give this schizophrenic to?"

Left to Right and Top to Bottom:

"Ah, this cystoscope is marvelous."

"And not one case of mal-union."

"But, Doctor, I'm just a little pregnant."

"Now in 14% of cases, only 2% are—"

"—and was his face red when we did a sponge count!"

"Oops! No uterus!"

"This breathing is a snap."

Worsham examines prosthesis.

"Any evidence of periarticular fibrositis?"

"So, it's bad blood, is it?"

"Now John, when I was a student—"

"Now don't tell me you've never had G.C.!"

Hart and Jo listen to pearls fall.

Left to Right and Top to Bottom:

"I've called you ten times — don't talk so much."

Go away — No more information.

Eli gets buzz from his coke.

Hold it! Coffee time!

"Aw, I'm not really working."

Miss Paul gives orders for the day.

Miss Leighmon reflects.

"Wilms tumor being my specialty, I—"

"But I didn't know."

"I hate histories."

Jimmie appraises profits.

They see through everybody.

"Where the devil is the starter?"

The doorway to better annuals!

The goal of every staff is to produce a better annual. Not only a better planned book but technically a better book.

Annuals are a business with the Hurley Company . . . not a sideline. We know what it takes to make a better book.

When planning your book let the people who are yearbook specialists do your printing and binding.
